

PSALM 119

“The Fulfilled Version”

Reconstituting Old Testament responses to the law code by using them to celebrate Christ as the “fulfillment” of the Law
David Bryant

This is a project I’ve been waiting to try for a long time. As we know, Psalm 119 (the longest chapter in the Bible) is famous for its laser focused, single-minded love for and commitment to God’s Law: to its codes, commands, statutes, precepts, principles and promises. Psalm 119 is an acrostic poem, the stanzas of which begin with successive letters of the Hebrew alphabet; moreover, the verses of each stanza begin with the same letter of the Hebrew alphabet.

What I’ve done below is take Psalm 119, as a great hymn of praises and supplications passionately oriented toward the law code, and reconstituted the themes of each verse, to show how it would read if the Psalmist had known how it was all wrapped in Christ alone.

How might King David have tried to express the same thoughts, desires, joys, concerns (etc.), if he did so knowing about God’s Son, who “fulfills” and “fills full” the law code and, therefore, is worthy of every kind of affection and exultation recorded in Psalm 119 about the Law?

In other words: How should Christians read this Psalm (or any Psalm) differently from the way Old Testament saints would have read it? What might be different about how a follower of the exalted Jesus would re-word it? How would it sound if read as a hymn to Jesus rather than an extolling of the precepts He fulfills and fills-full?

Consider: “I did not come to abolish the law of Moses or the writings of the prophets. No, I came to accomplish their purpose.” (Matthew 5) “You search the Scriptures because you think they give you eternal life. But the Scriptures point to me! Yet you refuse to come to me to receive this life. (John 5). “Then Jesus took them through the writings of Moses and all the prophets, explaining from all the Scriptures the things concerning himself.” (Luke 24) “Refusing to accept God’s way, they cling to their own way of getting right with God by trying to keep the law. For Christ has already accomplished the purpose for which the law was given.” (Romans 10) “For these rules are only shadows of the reality yet to come. And Christ himself is that reality.” (Colossians 2)

Which brings us to my paraphrase of Psalm 119 called “The Fulfilled Version”. Use the two columns below to compare this version with the focus of the original Psalm 119. You’ll see how carefully I’ve faithfully reflected the flavor, focus and fervor of each verse, but “fulfilling” them in Christ. The “adjustments” to the original are modest, but the implications of these changes are potent for expressing the heart of what John Stott terms a “New Testament Christian” (vs. “Old Testament Christians”— see John Stott’s Romans, commentary on chapter 7). I’ve addressed all of it to the Father about His Son. So, for example, wherever the word “LORD” (“Yahweh”) appears in the NIV version, I have replaced it with “Father” in my “fulfilled version”.

Suggestion: Try reading the version out loud as an act of worship. See how it “feels” to express yourself in this way to the Father about all His Son means to you. Do so at one time; or read 3-4 sections per day during devotions. I believe, with a proper orientation for the reader, this tool provides one effective way to help believers understand how fully Christ should dominate our thoughts and feelings and desires and passions – and our living. As well, it can help them recognize any defectiveness in their current vision of glory of Christ, to discover how unintentionally they have been drawn away from Him by an “Old Testament” approach to New Testament discipleship.

What I’ve done with Psalm 119 is but one example of how to make the entire Old Testament foster the development of “New Testament Christians”. It has helped me grasp how to start unlocking new ways to capitalize on many other Christologically-rich sections of the Hebrew Bible, so as to enlarge the hope and passion of New Testament Christians for their Redeemer and Lord – for ALL He is.

(Write for my essay: “Old Testament Christians: One Tragic Consequence of Our Current Crisis of Christology” for more on why this approach to the Old Testament is so desperately needed – www.ProclaimHope.org.)

1 Blessed are those whose ways are led by your Spirit,
who follow your Son, Father, faithfully
and passionately.
2 Blessed are those who obey Jesus as their Lord
and seek him with all their hearts—
3 they do no wrong
as they live for Christ alone.
4 Father, you have revealed Him to us by the Spirit
so we might live for His glory and praise.
5 Oh, that my ways were steadfast
in pursuing your Son totally.
6 Then I would not be put to shame
when I testify to others of His death and resurrection.
7 I will praise Him with an upright heart as I sit at His feet, who has ascended on high, to learn from Him.

1 Blessed are those whose ways are blameless,
who walk according to the law of the LORD.
2 Blessed are those who keep his statutes and seek him with all their heart—
3 they do no wrong
but follow his ways.
4 You have laid down precepts
that are to be fully obeyed.
5 Oh, that my ways were steadfast
in obeying your decrees!
6 Then I would not be put to shame
when I consider all your commands.
7 I will praise you with an upright heart
as I learn your righteous laws.
8 I will obey your decrees;
do not utterly forsake me.

8 I will give Him the supremacy in all things;
let your Spirit continue to fill me and use me for His sake.

9 How can a young person stay on the path of purity?
By setting his affections on the Lord of his life.
10 I seek Jesus with all my heart;
do not let me stray from His presence.
11 I have opened my heart to Christ, for Him to rule my life,
that I might not sin against you, Father.
12 Praise be to you, Father;
show me more and more of your Son.
13 With my lips I recount
the unsearchable wealth you give us in Christ.
14 I rejoice in following Him

for my enemies ignore the Gospel of His saving power.

¹⁴⁰ Your promises in Jesus are thoroughly tested, and your servant loves Him and embraces my great hope in Him.

¹⁴¹ Though I am lowly and despised,
I never turn back from giving Jesus my whole heart.

¹⁴² Your righteous purposes in Christ are everlasting and your call to us to follow Him is true.

¹⁴³ Trouble and distress have come upon me,
but your Son never ceases to give me delight.

¹⁴⁴ The reign of Christ is righteous at all times and in all places;
give me understanding that I may live more fully for His Kingdom's advance.

word;

let no sin rule over me.

¹³⁴ Redeem me from human oppression,
that I may obey your precepts.

¹³⁵ Make your face shine on your servant
and teach me your decrees.

¹³⁶ Streams of tears flow from my eyes,
for your law is not obeyed.

¹³⁷ You are righteous, LORD ,
and your laws are right.

¹³⁸ The statutes you have laid down are righteous;
they are fully trustworthy.

¹³⁹ My zeal wears me out,
for my enemies ignore your words.

¹⁴⁰ Your promises have been thoroughly tested,
and your servant loves them.

¹⁴¹ Though I am lowly and despised,
I do not forget your precepts.

¹⁴² Your righteousness is everlasting and your law is true.

¹⁴³ Trouble and distress have come upon me,
but your commands give me delight.

¹⁴⁴ Your statutes are always righteous;
give me understanding that I may live.

145 I call with all my heart; answer me,
Father,
and I will obey Jesus more and more.
146 I call out to you; save me and I will exalt your Son more and more.
147 I rise before dawn and cry for your help;
for I have put my hope in Christ alone.
148 My eyes stay open through the watches of the night,
that I may fellowship with Christ, my hope of glory 149 Hear my voice in accordance with your love for me in Jesus;
preserve my life, Father, because I am forever united to your Son.
150 Those who devise wicked schemes are near,
yet they are so far from knowing who Jesus really is.
151 Yet by your Spirit you remain always near, Father;
therefore, all your purposes in Christ
stand unshakeable.
152 Long ago I learned about your eternal designs around your Son, how you have established His supremacy in the universe to last forever.

153 Look on my suffering and deliver me,
for I have made your Son my everything.
154 Defend my cause and redeem me;
preserve my life according to your
promises in Christ Jesus.
155 Salvation is far from the wicked,
for they do not seek out Christ's redeeming work
for the nations.
156 Your compassion, Father, is great;
preserve my life according to your
purposes in your dear Son.
157 Many are the foes persecuting me for Jesus' sake,
but I have not turned from testifying of Him before everyone.

¹⁶¹ Rulers persecute me for the cause of the Gospel,

but, in the face of all of it, my heart
trembles in passion for Him.

¹⁶² I rejoice in your promises to us in Christ like one who finds great spoil.

¹⁶³ I hate and detest falsehood but I love the truth that I have found in Jesus.

¹⁶⁴ Seven times a day I praise Him who is my Savior

I praise all you have revealed of your glory in Him.

¹⁶⁵ Great peace have those who love Jesus alone;

and nothing can make them stumble as they live for Him alone.

¹⁶⁶ I wait for the consummation of your salvation,

Father, and I follow your Son in great hope,

looking for His return.

¹⁶⁷ I obey Jesus as my Lord, for I love
Him greatly.

¹⁶⁸ I obey your Son and all that His Kingdom stands
for, for all my ways are known to Him.

169 May my cry come before you, Father; transform my life as you reveal more of Christ to me.

170 May my supplication come before you;
deliver me according to your promises in Jesus.

171 May my lips overflow with praise for my King,
as your Spirit teaches me more and more about who He really is.

172 May my tongue sing of your Son,
for all your ways in Him are righteous.

173 May your hand be ready to help me, for I have chosen to give your Son the supremacy in my life.

174 I long to see the increase of your saving power in Jesus, Father;
His reign and His Kingdom give me delight.

175 Let me live forever that I may praise
the Lamb at the center of the Throne, and may my life in Him sustain me in all the ages to come.

176 If in any way I have strayed like a lost
